Kenneth J. Claytor, Senior Pastor
Spirit of Faith Christian Center Gainesville

Kenneth J. Claytor, a pastor after the heart of God, has an extraordinary love for God and God's people. Born and raised in the mountains of Beckley, West Virginia, Pastor Ken exhibited the shepherd and leadership anointing from the very beginning.

At the tender age of twelve, he began selling hotdogs and managing lemonade stands. This was the beginning of many witty ideas. As a teenager, he bought and sold automobiles and even promoted jazz concerts. On into his college years, Pastor Ken continued in this entrepreneurial vein where he also managed a chain of Italian Restaurants.

A graduate of West Virginia University, Pastor Ken earned a Bachelors Degree in Business Administration with a concentration in business management. While in school he met his wife, Pastor Tabatha, and the two became one on July 3, 1999. After graduation Pastor Ken along with his wife Tabatha set off to find careers in Washington, DC. Immediately, Pastor Ken began a career in real estate sales and investing and quickly elevated to the top. Now a successful businessman, Pastor Ken owns two prosperous Real Estate Companies.

In 2001, God placed Pastor Ken and his wife under the care of Dr's Michael and Dee Dee Freeman at Spirit of Faith Christian Center in Maryland. It was under their leadership that Pastors Ken and Tabatha answered the call and were trained and prepared for ministry. Both served their man and woman of God faithfully until their release in 2007. Pastors Ken and Tabatha are also graduates of The Spirit of Faith Bible Institute in Temple Hills, Maryland.

As a teacher, Pastor Ken teaches the word of God "In Simplicity and in Power", so that it is applicable to our everyday lives. He teaches that what you learn in church on Sunday should be applied Monday through Saturday. Pastor Ken believes that when God's Word is taught in simplicity so that understanding takes place, then God will confirm His word with signs, wonders, and demonstrations. He states that God is not obligated to confirm our emotionalism or tradition, but God is obligated to confirm His word.

A devoted husband and wonderful father, Pastor Ken is committed to being a shining example that God can hold before man to show His will for their lives. Pastor Ken's life passion is to lead others as he follows Christ. With his charismatic and prolific presentation, you won't leave church the same way you came and you'll have fun while you're there. With the assignment to the maturing of the saints, he teaches in a systematic way that causes our Faith to be matured and for us to live the abundant life in every arena of life. Pastor Ken believes that "Holy Living" is the key to walking in the "Promises of God". Assigned by God to teach whole life prosperity, Pastor Ken teaches about prospering in our marriages, prospering in our families, prospering in our single hood, prospering in our peace, prospering in our joy, prospering in our finances, and prospering in our relationship with God. Pastor Ken expresses that the bible lays out provision in all of those areas; however most believers aren't experiencing victory in those areas. Therefore his goal is to change lives one soul at a time, by teaching the word of God and living holy, transparent lives before the people so that the maturation process, can explode in them, like it exploded in him. Pastor Ken emphatically insists that he is not here to play church with all of the forms and traditions, but he is here to assist believers in experiencing God in a new way. His desire is to help people grow in Love with Jesus...not in religion, but in relationship.
